Prologue

~🎸No One's POV🎸~

It was an normal day for the students of Class 1-A, well as normal as gets for a group of heroes-in-training with a reputation for getting attack by villains since their first week at UA. Deku, Bakugo, Todoroki, Tokoyami, Sero, Kirishima, Denki, Uraraka, Iida, Tsu, Mina, and Shinso(after Mineta got expelled for obvious reasons Shinso took his place)were fighting a group of villains with unknown Quirks along with their teachers Aizawa and Present Mic(who are secretly married and are Shinso and Eri's parents)and Endeavor.

The student were each in different groups fighting one of the villains, Bakugo with Deku, Todoroki with Uraraka and Iida, Tokoyami with Tsu, Kirishima with Mina, and Sero with Denki and Shinso. Things were going smooth until one of the villains pointed his hand at a pair of police officers who was helping a family get to safety. "LOOK OUT!!!!" Both Shinso and Bakugo yelled at them as they got in front of them just as the villain's Quirk was about to hit the police officers, hitting Shinso and Bakugo instead. "KACCHAN/SHINSO!!!!" Deku and Denki yelled as the same time running towards Bakugo and Shinso just as they fell to the ground, unconscious.

"Deku, Chargebolt get them out of here now!" Aizawa yelled at his students as he pinned down one of the villains. Deku then picked up Bakugo bridal style while Denki and Sero work together to carry Shinso. 'Did Kacchan's/Shinso's hair grew longer????' Deku and Denki thought at the same time. Just as they got to the other students the ground started to shake and then it raised turning into a circling wall, trapping them. "What happened????" Uraraka said, who was clinging to Iida when the ground shook. "I think it must be one of the villain's Quirk." Iida said as he and Uraraka separated from each other, blushing. "Well, aren't you a smart one." "Too smart if you ask me." Two voices said and the students turned in the direction they came from to see two of the villain on top of the wall, both of them had hoods over their faces, one's black and the other midnight blue.

"What are you going to do to us?!" Todoroki said ready to attack. "Simple, we're going to use our Quirks on all of you. Mine's going to send you somewhere that you can't get back from and my partner's Quirk is going to make a few changes to all of you." The villain in the black hood said, raising his hand aiming it at the trap students, his partner doing the same. Then both of their hands started to glow and then a orb came from each of their hands, one was galaxy and the other was the cat pelt color tortoiseshell, hitting the students.

"AHHHHHH!!!!!" Was all the students could say (or this case yell) as the orbs hit them. Then they started to shrink and glow at the same time as they faded away until they disappear. The villains were laughing at the last look the heroes-in-training made before disappearing when a scarf wrapped them. They turned around to see Eraser Head and realized the scarf was the Hero's capture weapon. "Where are they!?" Aizawa said angry, pulling the villains towards him.

The villains looked around to see that the rest of their team has been capture as well. "Answer me!" Aizawa yelled hoping to find out what happen to his students and his son. "I'm afraid you'll never see them again. My Quirk sent them to another universe, and I can't open a portal to there for another 10 years. But it wouldn't matter, thanks to my friend's Quirk their bodies changed and because of that, they won't make it the end of the week even with their Quirks."

When he was finish, the three Pro Heroes looked at each other in quiet until Mic spoke up. "So how are we going to explain this to their parents????" He said as thought of a way to explain to Eri that her big brother has disappear. Endeavor was thinking of a way to tell his family that his youngest son is trapped in another universe while also thinking of a way to block out the sounds of a worried Fuyumi so he can get a go night sleep. But one thing was on all their minds. 'Where did they ended up?'

~Meanwhile~

It was night time in a miss-matched forest of flowered trees, swampy pine trees next to a pond with an island in the middle of it with a bridge that connected the island to the shore, a valley with a tall grassland nerbey as well as oak trees on the other side of it, alder and birch trees together with an old summercamp hidden among them, dry pines on the outskirts of a farm, surrounded by a town, a garden lit by moonlight know as the Moon-Garden hidden from humans, roads, hills, campsites, a new summercamp to replace the old one, and in the center of it all was cave opening with greenery on the inside.

Living in the forest were five groups of cats who followed a Code made by their ancestors, StarClan. FlowerClan, who lived among the flowering trees. DuskClan, who made their home on the farm and in the dry part of the pine trees. PondClan, who made their home in the swampy pines and the island in the middle of the pond. StormClan, they live among the alder and birch trees. And ValleyClan, cats who live in the valley and hunt in the grassland as well as the valley itself.

Heading towards Moon-Garden were two cats. One was a silver she-cat with blind pink eyes the other was a younger brown she-cat with dark spots shaped like leaves. These cats were Poollight, medicine cat of FlowerClan, and her apprentice and niece Leafpaw, whose Poollight has been training for six moons. 'It won't be long until she becomes a full medicine cat.' Poollight thought. Because of her blindness Poollight can never leave camp alone unless it was an emergency, so she wanted to train Leafpaw as fast as she could before she joined StarClan.

Lately the two of them have been having a hard time focusing on their medicine cat duties, but no one blamed them. Two weeks before Leafpaw's mother and Poollight's sister, Lilyflight, was killed by a hawk who was trying to get Eva's son Swordkit. "Do you think we'll see Lilyflight tonight?" Leafpaw asked Poollight, hoping to see her mother again. "I don't know Leafpaw, we might." Poollight replied as they arrived at the entrance to the Moon-Garden. Sniffing the air Poollight knew they were the last to arrive.

The two she-cats then walked through the entrance and into the Moon-Garden. When they entered the Moon-Garden they were greeted by plants lit by the half-moon, which was a beautiful silvery ghostly glow, and five other cats.

[image]

(Ignore The Banch and Image More Plants Lit by The (Half) Moon Then Just The Trees)

The cats waiting for them were the other medicine cats from the other Clans. DuskClan's medicine cat Mousefoot, a gray tabby tom with small paws. StormClan's medicine cat Brackenfrost, a pale tortoiseshell-and-brown she-cat. ValleyClan's two medicine cats Featherheart, a dark gray she-cats with blind blue eyes, and Shadefoot, a gray tom with dark paws. The last one was PondClan's medicine cat, and the oldest medicine cat among the Clans, Bubblesplash, a pale gray she-cat.

Everyone in the Clans was worried about Bubblesplash, ever since her daughter and fellow medicine cat, Whispersong, died she refused to train another apprentice unless StarClan said so. 'I hope StarClan gives her an apprentice soon. I hate to see PondClan without a medicine cat.' Poollight thought as she and Leafpaw approached their fellow medicine cats. "Poollight, Leafpaw! We were just wondering when you'll get here." Shadefoot said, winking at Leafpaw.

Leafpaw blushed a bit before sticking her tongue at the tom. "Shadefoot, stop flirting with poor Leafpaw. You know medicine cats aren't allowed to be mates with medicine cats from other Clans. She might even have a crush on another tom" Featherheart said to Shadefoot. But what the other medicine cats don't know was that Leafpaw did have a crush, unfortunately it was on Shadefoot. The tom was three moons older then Leafpaw, but after their second meeting, when a FlowerClan patrol including Leafpaw went to ValleyClan to get some chervil when they ran out not too long before Amberleap gave birth to her kits, Leafpaw fell in love with the young ValleyClan medicine cat.

"What is the news in ValleyClan?" Poollight asked Featherheart. "Everything is fine. But poor Crowpaw's Warrior Ceremony will be delayed because he fell from a tree and broke his leg, thankfully it will heal completely. Steamblaze caught whitecough but is better now. And Swiftstorm found a loner named Melody and she's expecting kits that are due in less then a moon, so we're letting her stay with us until she gives birth to the kits and their old enough to travel. But who knows, she might decide to stay with us as a ValleyClan cat, and become mates with Swiftstorm. He has been so depressed since his former mate, Curlywing, died. But he cheered up so much after he met Melody." Featherheart explained.

Shadefoot then came to her side before he spoke. "But what worries us is that she had scarres of all kinds, old and new, and she had a scent that was kind of like a Clan scent. And whenever someone asks her where she got them she finds a way to make them forget about or she changes the subject." Shadefoot said, shifting his front paws. The other medicine cats looked at each other before Bubblesplash spoke. "Back during my days as a loner, some rouges tend to form groups of their own, but they also tend to be ruthless to their own campmates. Maybe poor Melody escaped from one of those groups when she realized she was expecting kits." Bubblesplash said.

The others looked at the elderly she-cat, it was so long ago since she joined PondClan that most Clan cats forgot she started out life as a loner, in fact this is the first time Shadefoot and Leafpaw hearing anything about Bubblesplash being a loner. "Why don't we continue sharing news about our Clans?" Brackenfrost said. The other medicine cats nodded their heads before she spoke. "Things are going well in StormClan. Tigerlily is actually thinking of having kits with Jaystar when she's finished training Sealpaw, those two have been in love since they were apprentices it's about time. Hawkflight moved into the Nursery last week and the day after Russetheart gave birth to two kits, Windkit and Goosekit." Brackenfrost said, glad that nothing serious happened.

"Make sure to give Russetheart our congratulations when you get back!" Leafpaw said, glad that StormClan has some kits. "I will and, who knows, maybe one of them will be my apprentice."

Brackenfrost said. Mousefoot then stepped forward. "Everything is fine in DuskClan. Shadowpelt gave birth to three kits yesterday, there was a fourth but the poor thing died this morning after she named her. Cherry's kits are due in a moon or so. And since this is her first litter, she wants me to help her, just in case something goes wrong." Mousefoot said, sad that his sister lost a kit and he couldn't save the poor thing. "I'm sure you did your best Mousefoot. It was just bad luck that the kit died." Bubblesplash comforts the tom.

The gray tom looked at the senior medicine cat. "Thank you Bubblesplash." Mousefoot said before stepping back. Bubblesplash then stood tall before speaking. "Everything is fine in PondClan. A few bellyaches and scratches, nothing serious. Sunnysight's kits will arrive in a few days. Lizardpelt's son, Crowkit caught whitecough and hid it from everyone. I just cured him when it turned into greencough. Both me and Lizardpelt gave that kit a good talking to so it won't happen again." Bubblesplash said.

"Things have been a bit difficult for FlowerClan." Poollight said, her head down a bit. "A few weeks ago Lilyflight died while saving Swordkit from a hawk after he snuck out of camp. He was shaken up and had to stay the night in the Medicine Cat Den. Poor Redfoot is still griving for our sister, he doesn't eat much. That's all." When Poollight was finished, Leafpaw looked like she was about to cry. Shadefoot then ran to her side and stroked her back with his tail. "It's alright Leafpaw, I'm she's up in StarClan right now watching over you and your family." He said, comforting the she-cat. "We are all sorry for your loss, Lilyfight was a great cat."

The rest of the medicine cat dipped their heads in respect for the apprentice's mother. "Why don't we start the meeting with our ancestors, maybe we'll see your mother." Featherheart said. All the other medicine cats nodded their heads and then they walked to the main part of the Moon-Garden, the Moon-Tree.

[image]

(The Panting is The Best I Could Find)

Leafpaw was about to follow them when Shadefoot stopped her. "Meet me at the Willow Hollow in Berryfur's Skulk's territory in two days at Midnight. Make sure no one sees or follows you." Shadefoot said to her, only loud enough for him and Leafpaw to hear. All she could do was nod her head yes, then the two of them joined the other medicine cats. All the medicine cats touched their noses to the bark of the Moon-Tree and then lay down next to it while they closed their eyes, waiting for dreams for StarClan.

When Leafpaw opened her eyes she and the other medicine cats were no longer in the Moon-Garden. They were now in a large, starry mist, sunlit clearing of flowers surrounded by pine, birch, and alder trees, and a small pond to the left with tall grass surrounded it. "A shared dream? Has this happened before?" Shadefoot asked, looking around. Bubblesplash then spoke up. "It has happened before. The last time we had a shared dream from StarClan was when you were a kit." She explained to the young tom as starry figures came from the trees and went in front of them.

"Wispersong!" Bubblesplash said with excitement as she ran up to a StarClan she-cat with her pale gray pelt but the StarClan cat had black paws, chest, and ears. "Curlywing!" Featherheart and Shadefoot yelled as they ran toward another StarClan she-cat with a long black curly fur(I forgot to mention that Curlywing is Featherheart's sister and Shadefoot's mother). A small black tabby StarClan she-kit with white paws ran up to Mousefoot. "Hello Mousefoot!" The she-kit said to the gray tabby medicine cat. "Fawnkit? You're not mad at me?" Mousefoot asked the she-kit. Fawnkit looked at him with surprised eyes. "Of course not! StarClan told me it was the first time you ever had to try to save a kit's life. So I don't blame you." The she-kit said to Mousefoot.

A dark brown-and-white tabby StarClan she-cat with blue eyes came up to Brackenfrost. "Hello, my dear Brackenfrost." The she-cat said to Brackenfrost in a loving tone. Brackenfrost looked at the StarClan cat with teary eyes. "Violethope!" The pale tortoiseshell-and-brown she-cat yelled as she ran to her mother, who died when she and her littermates were still kits. Leafpaw looked over the StarClan cats until she saw a long-furred light brown tabby she-cats with a white chest, muzzle, underbelly, and paws. "Lilyflight!!" Leafpaw yelled, running towards her mother.

Lilyflight then ran to meet her daughter. They nuzzled each other while crying as Poollight ran to join them. "I missed you so much." Leafpaw said as she and Lilyflight pulled a part. "I missed you too. Please tell your littermates I miss them too." Lilyflight said before she started to cover her daughter with loving licks. When Poollight got there she nuzzled her sister. "I'm sorry I couldn't save you." Poollight said, sad that she couldn't save her own sister.

Lilyflight looked at her sister with wide eyes. "It wasn't your fault. I chose to give up my life to save Swordkit. And at least I'm with Coalpelt again." When she was finished a sleek, coal-black tom with jade-green eyes came to Lilyflight's side. "Coalpelt!" Leafpaw said as she snuggled up to father, who died a moon before she and her littermates became apprentices. "Be sure to tell Starlingpaw, Reedpaw, and Shadepaw you saw me." Coalpelt said as he nuzzled his daughter's head. "I promise I'll tell them." Leafpaw said.

"I hate to cut the reunions short, but I thought we had a prophecy to deliver." A male voice said from beside the pond. When the medicine cats looked in the direction of the pond they saw an old smoky-gray tabby tom with a silver star on his head and blue eyes standing beside it. "Cobwebstar." All the medicine cats, except Shadefoot and Leafpaw, said at the same time. Leafpaw had heard of the previous leader of FlowerClan who gave up his last life to save a loner(Mosquito) from a pack of dogs.

Cobwebstar beckoned the living cats towards him. The medicine cats along with some StarClan cats walked over to the stand beside the former FlowerClan leader. When they got there Leafpaw saw that, despite it being day time for StarClan, the surface of the pond was full of stars. "Look at the water closely and tell us what you see." Cobwebstar told them. The medicine cats obeyed the gray tabby and looked into the starry water of the pond. But what they saw surprised them.

'Twolegs!?' They all thought in unison. The twelve twolegs in the vision, except the ones with brown, black, and red hair and two with yellow hair, looked different from the ones they usually saw. Two of the twolegs,one male the other female, had green hair. Another had hair that was half white half crimson red. One with a weird looking object on his face had dark blue hair. The sleepy looking twoleg had purple hair. One had pink skin and hair, strange looking eyes, and yellow horns on her head. The last one had the head of some kind of black bird.

"Why are we looking at a bunch of strange looking twolegs?" Mousefoot asked the StarClan cats. He almost looked up when Fawnkit stopped him. "Keep looking." She said and Mousefoot did as she told him. The twolegs forms got covered in fog as they broke off into groups of either two of three. When fog cleared the twolegs changed into cats. The first group was made up of two cats, a tom and a she-cat. The tom was a green tabby with black paws and accents and green eyes. The she-cat had spiky, sandy yellow fur with red accents.

The second group was made of two toms and a she-cat. The first tom had yellow fur with golden accents, a black streak over his left eyes, and golden eyes. The second tom was black with unuarule black eyes and funny shaped knees. The she-cat was a purple tabby with purple eyes.

The third group had two toms and a she-cat, like the second group. The first tom had half white half crimson red red fur with his right eye dark gray and his left eye turquoise. The second tom had dark blue tabby fur, blue eyes, and strange silver objects on his back legs. The she-cat was brown with matching brown eyes.

The last group had two cats in it, a tom and a she-cat. The tom had bright red fur with black accents, red eyes, and a scar above his right eye. The she-cat had light pink fur with darker accents, strange looking eyes, and two yellow horns on top of her head. The vision started to fade until they were gone, when it was the medicine cats looked at the StarClan cats.

"Why did you show us twolegs turning into cats?!" Bubblesplash asked the starry figures. Cobwebstar then stepped forward. "For the Clans to survive, twelve heroes from another world will come and each join a Clan that they are most connected to. And cats who know of the threat will aid them and the Clans." Cobwebstar said. The starry mist started to become thicker until the medicine cats could no longer see them.

The medicine cats opened their eyes to see they were back in the Moon-Garden beside the Moon-Tree. They all sat up and looked at each other, sharing one thought. 'The Clans are in danger!' But they couldn't help but wonder, how were a bunch of weird looking Twolegs supposed to help them.

Let me explain something real quick ever since the first medicine cats every time an apprentice is made a full medicine cat they're to plant a flower, bush, or tree seed in the Moon-Garden in honor of the achievements they made as an apprentice. Medicine cats can also have mates and kits*(Medicine she-cat can only have kits if there's at least one other Medicine cat in the Clan, or if they at least have an apprentice)*, but their not aloud to fall in love with medicine cats from other Clans. Also I'm going to let you vote what story I should do next.

The Exorcist And The Exiled Ice Princess, a Blue Exorcist/WoF crossover. Or Ghostbusters Academia, a MHA/Ghostbusters/ Monster High/A Babysitter's Guide To Monster Hunting crossover. Tell me which one you want and I'll do it when I get the chance. See you later my Fighting Cubs!!!!! Oh, and Ghostbusters Academia takes place years after all the Ghostbusters movies*(minus the 2016 Ghostbusters)* and episodes.

Chapter 1

~🤍Deku's POV🤍~

'Ugh, what hit me?' I thought, my whole body aching. I opened my eyes only to close them again due to the brightness of the Sun. 'Why am I outside? What happened?' Then the memories from the day before(?) came flooding back. 'Oh no, Kacchan and the others I have to find them and make sure their OK!' I opened my eyes again, ignoring the blinding light of the Sun, trying to stand up only to end up falling back down on all fours. 'That's weird. Why can't I stand up?' I thought as I looked around to see everything was much bigger then it was before.

'What the heck!? Why's everything so big!?' I thought as I looked down hoping to see my hands only to find that they've been replaced by black cat paws. 'WHAT HAPPENED TO MY HANDS!?' I thought in a panic as I looked around again and then I spotted a puddle. 'Good, now I can see myself to see how much I changed because of that villain's Quirk.' I thought as I crawled(?) over to the puddle. I looked in the puddle hoping to see my usual self(you all know what he looks like.) but instead staring back at me was a dark green tabby tom-cat with black accents and green eyes.

[image]

(Ignore That He's a Tiger)

'I'M A CAT!?' I thought, freaking out a bit. When I calmed down again I realized something. 'The others must of been turned into cats to. And since my fur is the same color as my hair, that means finding Iida, Tsu, Mina, and Shinso will be easy. And thanks to their Quirks it'll also be easy to find Sero and Tokoyami. But how am I going to find Uraraka, Todoroki, Kirishima, Denki, and Kacchan?' I thought but then I heard a voice spoke from my left. "Deku, can you shut up? I have a headache and your stupid muttering is only making it worse." I turned to the direction of the voice I knew since per-school.

"Kacchan!" I said, almost yelling. I spotted Kacchan easily but was shocked at what I saw. Kacchan turned into a cat just like me but had spiky sandy-yellow fur with red accents, but what was most surprising is that Kacchan also turned into a she-cat.

[image]

(Imagine That The Stripes Are Red)

'It must be because of the Quirk only he...re...she and Shinso got hit by so that means Shinso turned into a girl as well. Is it permanent or not? And is it the same with us being cats? And if it's not permanent, when will we all turn back?' I thought as I went up to Kacchan. "Um, Kacchan you might want to wake up." I said but she ignored me and then I got an idea. I then bit down on Kacchan's ear and pulled it like puppies tend to do and that got her up.

"OW! What the heck Deku, what are you doing...." When she looked at me she stopped before she could finish. "Deku why are a cat and what wrong with my voice!?" She said looking around just noticing the change in her voice. "And where are we?" Kacchan then tried to get up, but just like me she fell back on all four. She then looked at me with a demanding look. "Well you see, after you and Shinso passed out two villains also used their Quirks on the twelve of us. One send us here, and most likely separated us from the others as well, the other turned all of us into cats." I said.

"But what happened to my voice? Why do I sound weird!?" She said and it looked like she was about to cry. "Well you know how you and Shinso were hit by a Quirk before passing out?" I asked and she responded with a nod. "Well I think it changed your and Shinso's gender." I then closed my eyes, waited for Kacchan to yell but I heard crying instead. I opened my eyes again to see her lying down again with her front paws over her eyes.

"What's wrong with me? Why am I cry instead of yelling like I always do?" She said between cries. "I think the Quirk must of changed your personality as well? I wonder if it did the same with Shinso." I said as I went to lay down beside her. When I did my new cat instincts took over and I started licking the top of head. As I did this not only did Kacchan calmed down but she also started to purr and leaned into my touch.

We stayed like that for a few minutes until Kacchan spoke up. "I think we should look around. We have to know exactly where we are. And maybe we can find the others while we're exploring." We got up and as we did both our stomachs growled, causing us to blush in embarrassment under our fur. "And maybe find something to eat?" I asked her jokingly, making her laugh. 'Her laugh is so cute.' I said while blushing so much, it's visible through my fur.

We than took a better look at our surroundings and saw that we're in a forest full of beautiful flowering trees.

[image]

(Kind of like this)

"Wow, it's so beautiful here!" Kacchan said in aw, I looked at her in amazement. 'I guess that Quirk must of really changed her personality. A month ago she would say that out-loud, let alone in aw.' I thought before I spotted something to the left. "Hey, what's that over there?" I said as I went to investigate it, with Kacchan following not far behind.

When we got the we couldn't believe what we saw. It was a path that looked like it was manly used by cats. "Why's there a path and why's it for cats?" Kacchan said, looking at the path. "I don't know. Maybe some wild cats live around here? Ether way this looks like the safest way to go." "Lets just hope we run into the others and not any wild cats." And with that we went down the path, not knowing what we'll find.

Hello my Fighting Cubs. I hope you like chapter 1 of My Warriors Academia #1: A Feline Change. The next chapter is when they meet some apprentices from FlowerClan on their Warrior assessment, but I won't say how they meet them or which apprentices they are. But I will say this, the apprentices pass the assessment in more ways than one. Well, see you next chapter! ^u^

Chapter 2

🤍🐱Deku's POV🐱🤍

It's been ten minutes since me and Kacchan woke-up and started going down the mysterious cat path. As we walk, I notice that there was cat paw prints permanently worn into the ground. 'Maybe wild cats do use this path, a lot.' I thought worriedly looking from side to side, making sure that no one attacks us. "Deku, what's wrong??? You've been quiet ever since we took a few steps on the path." Kacchan said, look at me with worried eyes. 'It's so weird hearing Kacchan say that she's worried about someone out loud.' I thought as I looked at her.

"Well, I notice that there are cat paw prints worn into the ground. And that made the chances of of wild cats living around are much higher than they were before. I'm just making sure no one attacks us, since we're not use to these bodies, you more then me." I said. And after I did I heard something from our left. "Kacchan, did you hear that?" I asked her, turning to the direction of the the sound. "Yeah, I did. But thankfully it's too small to be a cat or anything that can hurt us so we're safe. Let's just continue going down the path."

"But what if it's an injured kitten who's to young to take of it's self or something like that? We need to in investigate, just in case." I said, willing for Kacchan to agree with me. "I guess your right Deku. I mean, no matter what we're still Heroes-in-Training so we have to investigate. And if it's someone in trouble we have to help them." Kacchan said as she went in the direction of the sound. She then turned back to look at me. "Hey Deku, are you coming or not? I mean investigating the sound was your idea." She said before continuing, running this time. "Yeah, I'm coming!" I said as I ran to catch up to her.

When I caught up to her I went to her side and the both of us slowed down until we were walking again. As we walked the mystery sound got louder and more clear, it was definitely a kitten and by the sounds of it more then one. "Well Deku, it looks like you were right. But what's a litter of kittens doing out here? And I don't hear their mother, I mean if we can hear the kittens this clearly then we should be able to hear the mother clearer right?" She said as we piked up the pace. 'Why would a mother cat leave her kittens alone and out here?' I thought as we got closer to the kittens. I was thinking of a reason when a we heard a little kid yelling. "Someone help! Mamma's hurt!"

After hearing that, me and Kacchan started running again. When we got there what we saw surprised us, it was the figure of a gray-and-sliver cat lying on their side, next to the cat was three kittens who looked about one month old. We rushed to the kittens and saw that their were crying and that the cat, who must be the kittens mother, was breathing heavily. When we got to the kittens side we saw a huge gash on the she-cat's side. Me and Kacchan looked at each other knew what was going to happen all too well, that it was too late to save her. "Please help Mamma." I looked down and saw one of the kittens looking at me with tearful eyes.

I looked at the kitten, shocked. But I guess I shouldn't be, I mean we did got turned into cats it'll only make since that we can understand them. "I'm sorry, but there's nothing we can do to save her." I said, looking at the soon to be orphan kittens. "You mean Mamma's going to leave us like Bubba and Papa did?" The second kitten said, crying even more along with the other two. I was about to try and comfort them when a pained grunt came from the dying she-cat.

I looked over at her to see she had her head up and she was staring at us. "Please, take care of my kits." And those were the last words she said before her head fell down again and her breathing stop, she was dead. "MAMMA!!!" Yelled all the kittens after seeing their mother dying right in front of them. Kacchan then walked over to the kittens side. "I'm sorry we couldn't get here in time." She then let her she-cat instincts take over to comfort them. She licked all three of them on the head and wrapped her tail around them.

"Don't worry, me and Deku are going to take care of all of you, like your mom wanted." She said and that seemed to calm them down. "Why don't we introduce ourselves? I'm Katsuki and this is my friend Izuku but I call him Deku. What are your names?" She said in a calming voice. "Mamma never got a chance to name us. She said she was going to when we found and join FlowerClan, but we never found them, or at least got found by them." I looked at them in surprise.

"How about we name you and in return you tell us everything you know about FlowerClan? Deal?" I said and three kittens look at me with excitement. "Name us and we'll tell you all we know." The first kitten said. They're were a white she-cat with black paws and legs, the tip of her muzzle was orange while the rest of it was black with two black lines that went to and around her orange eyes. "How about Swan for you, because your fur makes you look like a swan. Plus swans are very elegant and graceful" I said to the first kitten.

[image]

(This is best I could find)

"Swan. I love it. And I want to be elegant and graceful like a swan when I grow up!" The newly named Swan said jumping up and down. "What's my name going to be?" The second kitten said, they're a long-legged tom with tawny fur, with mottled brown and black markings, black tuft ears and tail tip, and hazel eyes, if I didn't know better I would of thought he was a lynx instead of a cat. "What about Lynx for you little guy. I mean you do look exactly like one." Kacchan said to the tom kitten.

[image]

"I like Lynx! Makes me sound strong and I want to be strong to protect my family and friends." The newly named Lynx said. 'He reminds me of myself. He'll make a great hero one day, no matter what.' I thought as the last kitten came up to me. "What's my name going to be? And can it not be based on an animal like Swan and Lynx." The third kitten said, revealing that they're a she-cat.

I looked at her in shock. 'I guess she's right.' I thought as I looked at her. She's an orange tabby with white markings, she had Heterochromia eyes like Todoroki, but her left eye was pale green and her right eye was navy blue. "How about Topaz? It's a type of rare gem stone that tends to be orange, like your fur and, besides diamonds, their the toughest gem in the World as well as pretty." I said.

[image]

(Imagine the Hetercohromia eyes and ignore the extra cat ear in the corner)

"Topaz, I love it! And I want to be pretty yet tough when I grow up!" The newly name Topaz said, her eyes sparkling like the gem she was now named after. "Now we'll tell you all we know about FlowerClan, which isn't much." Swan said as she and Lynx went to stand beside Topaz. "It's all right. Even a little bit about FlowerClan will be enough." Kacchan said as she look for a spot to bury the kittens's mother. "Oh, O.K! Mamma said that FlowerClan are a group of wild cats out here that are very kind." Swan said as she went to help Kacchan. "How does she know that?" I asked as me, Topaz, and Lynx looked for flowers to bury with their mother.

"Mamma told us that when a fire chased her away from her old home, FlowerClan let her take refuge in their camp. She said that they wanted to make her an official member of their Clan, but she missed our Papa so she left to go back to him." Lynx said as her went to a Sunflower. "That's so sweet!" Me and Kacchan said at the same time. "Well Mamma said that a two other cats named Sakura and Eva took refuge in FlowerClan because of the fire and they joined! When we get to the FlowerClan camp we might meet them." Topaz said as she went to help her brother pick the Sunflower.

"Are there any more groups like FlowerClan out here?" Kacchan asked as she and Swan started digging the dead she-cat's grave. "Mamma said that there are four other Clans that lives out here, PondClan who live in the swampy pine forest and a pond, ValleyClan who lives in a valley and among the tall grassland, StormClan who lives in the alder and birch forest, and DuskClan who lives among the pine forest and a farm. And Mamma said that all the Clans territories meet at a place called Four Caves and the Clans meet there every full moon!" Topaz said as she went to pick a daisy and Lynx drag the Sunflower to where their mother will be bury.

"Mamma also said that when a kit is six moons old, like you two, the Clan leader makes them apprentices and gives them a mentor that'll then teach them how to be warriors of the Clan. And if a medicine cat wants or needs an apprentice the leader will give them one!" Lynx said as he placed the Sunflower down and went to help Swan and Kacchan. 'Six moons must mean six months with animals.' I thought as I went to pick a bright yellow rose for Swan to bury with her mother and Topaz put the daisy she picked with Lynx's Sunflower then went to help Swan, Lynx, and Kacchan.

After I picked the rose and put it with Lynx's Sunflower and Topaz's daisy, I went to help the kits and Kacchan. With the five of us working together, the hole was big enough to put the dead she-cat in after five minutes. Me and Kacchan then carried her to the hole and put her in it while the kits went to get the flowers to bury with their mother. When they did, they went to the side of the grave to say their last respects to their mother.

The first was Swan. "We're going to miss you Mamma. When I grow up and have kits, I'm going to name one after you. And when we find FlowerClan and we become apprentices I'll do what ever my mentor tells me, like you always tell me to! And I'll protect everyone I care for, just like you did for us. Oh, and Izuku named me Swan I hope you like. Good bye Mamma." When Swan was finish she put the rose in with her mother and then went to Kacchan.

Next was Lynx. "Like Swan said, we're going to miss you Mamma. You always use to say I look like Papa and use to tell us how he was the bravest, strongest, and toughest cat you knew, well one day I'm going to be just like him. When we find FlowerClan, I'll become the greatest warrior I can to make both you and Papa proud! And when I get an apprentice I'll teach them how to be the bravest, strongest, and toughest warrior the Clan has ever seen! And I'll always put others before me, like you taught us. Oh, and Katsuki named me Lynx! Good bye Mamma" He then put his Sunflower in with his mother and then went to Swan's side.

Last was Topaz. "Well Mamma, I guess this is good bye. I hope I can be like you when I grow up, pretty yet tough! I hope one of my future kits looks like you. When we find FlowerClan I'll be kind to everyone there and help all those in need, like you always taught us to. I'm really going to miss you Mamma." With that, Topaz put her daisy in with her mother and then went to Swan and Lynx. Then Kacchan came to my side and the two of us than bury the kits mother. When we were done we went back to the kits. As we did Swan's stomach growled.

"Why don't we find something to eat while we look for FlowerClan?" Kacchan asked and all three kits nodded. "Maybe we'll find a FlowerClan warrior training their apprentice or find one of the FlowerClan patrol Mamma told us about!" Swan said. She than ran of to the right and the rest of us fallowed her. 'I hope we find FlowerClan. Maybe the others found them or maybe they each found one of the other Clans. Ether way, I hope their all right!' I thought as me, Kacchan, and the three kits went to look for both FlowerClan and something to eat.

~🕰1 Hour later🕰~ 🐱Swan's POV🐱 yes you'll sometimes read parts of the story that are in my OCs POV

It's been one hour since Mamma died, we met Izuku and Katsuki, they gave us names, and me, Lynx, and Topaz started look for FlowerClan with them. And ever since then, Izuku told us stories about where he and Katsuki are from, like how almost everyone there has something called a Quirk that give them super powers, like for how Katsuki can make explosions from her paw pads and Izuku has super strength.

Izuku also said that there are bad cats (they haven't told them about how they use to be humans/twolegs) called Villains and good cats called Heroes who fight the Villains to protect everyone else. Then Katsuki explained how she and Izuku were training to be Heroes when they and a few of their friends were hit by a Quirk that send them here and separated them from their friends! 'I hope I can be a hero like Katsuki when I grow up.' I thought as I smelled a mouse to my right.

"Hey, I smell a mouse over there." I said, flicking my tail in the direction of where the scent of mouse was coming. We then sneaked over to where the mouse to find it feasting on some seeds. "Katsuki, why don't you catch it while Izuku stays here to protect us." Topaz said, looking hungry at the mouse. "Yeah, the three of us don't know how to hunt yet, so it has to be you!" Lynx said with his mouth watering. "Um....OK! Here I go." Katsuki said as she went to sneak up closer to the mouse.

Katsuki then got behind the mouse. Just as she was about to pounce the wind changed direction, blowing her scent towards the mouse, causing it to smell her and to run. Katsuki then ran after it. But as it she did, I saw that the mouse was faster and avoided a certain area which was a bit shiny. I was about to warn Katsuki but it was but too late, as soon she stepped in the area she yowled in pain. "KACCHAN!" Izuku yelled as we ran to help Katsuki, avoiding where she got hurt. 'I guess Kacchan is what Izuku calls Katsuki, like how she calls Izuku Deku.' I thought as we got to Katsuki.

"Kacchan, what happened?" Izuku asked as he looked at Katsuki's injured paw, which was bleeding. "I think I stepped in glass and there's a piece in my paw." Katsuki said crying. I looked at the spot where Katsuki hurt her paw and saw clear pieces of Twoleg junk on the ground. 'So that's what clear Twoleg junk is called!' I thought as I went to Izuku's side. "When ever I got a cut Mamma used cobwebs to stop the bleeding." I said and Izuku looked at me and then nodded his head.

"OK! Lynx, you look for cobwebs to stop the bleeding. Topaz, you dig a hole to bury the pieces of glass in and while you'll put the glass in the hole be careful so you don't cut yourself. Swan, you call for help while I get the glass out of Kacchan's paw and clean the blood off." Izuku said and the three of of us nodded our head then went to do as we're told. "HELP, SOMEONE HELP!!!!!" I yelled as loud as I can, hoping someone will hear me.

I called for ten minutes until we heard rustling from the bushes, a minute later two cats emerged from it. One was a sable she-cat with bright yellow eyes, the other was a long-furred calico tom but they both look older the Katsuki and Izuku. "What happened here?!" Asked the she-cat as she and her friend came up to them. "My friend hurt herself on some Twoleg stuff and she's bleeding! Please help!" I said with tears in my eyes.

The she-cat then saw Katsuki and then turned to the tom.

"Reedpaw, remember a few minutes ago we ran into Poollight and Leafpaw as they were collecting herbs" The she-cat said to her friend, now know as Reedpaw who was confused before realizing something I didn't. "Oh, I get it. Good thinking Starlingpaw, I'll go find them. But what about our assessment?" Reedpaw said to the now named Starlingpaw. "Look, a cat is hurt, and a FlowerClan warrior helps all those in need! I'm sure we each caught enough prey to pass, so try not to worry about the assessment and focus on finding Poollight and Leafpaw so they can help!" Starlingpaw said almost yelling.

With that Reedpaw nodded his head and went to find Poollight and Leafpaw. "Excuse me, but did you say FlowerClan?" I asked Starlingpaw, hoping what I thought was right. "Yes I did. Me and my brother Reedpaw were on assessment to become full fledged warriors when we heard your call for help. Why do you ask? Oh, I'm Starlingpaw by the way" Starlingpaw said. "Well I'm Swan. And me, my littermates, my brother Lynx and my sister Topaz, and our new friends, Izuku and Katsuki were looking for FlowerClan when Katsuki got hurt trying to catch a mouse for us to eat." I answered her.

"Where's your mother?" Starlingpaw asked, looking around. I then looked at the ground, tears once again in my eyes. "Mamma's gone. She left us not to long ago. But at least she's with Papa and Bubba again!" I said looking up at Starlingpaw again. "Oh, I'm sorry. I didn't know. I hope you can forgive." Starlingpaw said, bowing her head in apology. "It's okay. We just met, and you didn't have any way of knowing." I said just as Reedpaw came back with him were two she-cat, one the same age as Reedpaw and Starlingpaw and the other looked much older.

The older she-cat had silver fur with blind pink eyes (their brother was blind before he died a week before) and other was brown with dark leaf-shaped spots, they both has leaf wraps fill with what I guess are herbs. Fallowing not far behind is Lynx with cobwebs on his back. "Look Swan, it's FlowerClan's medicine cat and her apprentice, They can help Katsuki!" Lynx said as they came up to me and Starlingpaw. "Take me to the injured cat now!" The blind she-cat, who I assume was the medicine cat, said.

I then led them to Katsuki with Izuku sitting by her side. 'I guess he got the glass out of Katsuki's paw.' I thought as we stopped beside them and the medicine cat amazing the wound. "Leafpaw we need a past of Chervil, Comfrey root, and Horsetail. But only a little bit, the wound's not that bad it should be better by tomorrow." The she-cat, which I assume was Poollight, said to Leafpaw who did what she was instructed to do. She went to the leaf wraps and took out three herbs, the first was a sweet-smelling large, leafy, fern-like plant, the second was a fat, brown root with a tangy smell, the last one was bristly like plant. Leafpaw then took a small bite from each one and started chewing them, mixing the herbs together.

When Leafpaw was done mixing/chewing the herbs together she licked past on the cut on Katsuki's paw as Poollight got cobwebs from Lynx to put on Katsuki's paw. "Can you stand please? But be careful not to put too much pressure on the injured paw." Poollight said when she was done wrapping cobwebs on Katsuki's paw. Katsuki then did as she was told and stand up, careful not to put too much pressure on her paw. "It doesn't hurt any more. Thank you Poollight." Katsuki said bowing her head in thanks to Poollight. "Your welcome Katsuki. But may I ask why do you two have these kits with you? Where's their mother?" Poollight asked looking at me and my brother and sister.

"I'm afraid their mother died about an hour ago. Her last wishes was for me and Kacchan to take care of her kits. And after they said they were looking for FlowerClan before their mother died, we decided to look for FlowerClan with the kits." Izuku said as Lynx and Topaz came to sit beside me. "Oh, I'm sorry for that little ones. Well why don't we take you to our camp, since you were looking for us anyway." Poollight said. "I think that's great idea Poollight. In fact Iceflower is already on her way to tell Dapplestar and the Clan about them." A she-cat's voice said causing us to look toward the trees to see a small black she-cat with yellow-orange eyes coming out of the shadows.

"Darkfeather!" Starlingpaw said staring at the she-cat. "You did well Starlingpaw. I'm happy to say that both you and Reedpaw pass your assessment. True, you were originally suppose to just to catch as much prey as you can, but when you heard the kit call for help you went to help as well as remember that Poollight and Leafpaw was looking herbs not to far away and send Reedpaw to get them when you saw that a she-cat was injured. After seeing this both me and Iceflower decided that your both ready to become warriors. So Iceflower also went to tell Dapplestar that you both pass your assessment." Darkfeather said as she walked up to us.

Starlingpaw and Reedpaw looked at Darkfeather with wide eyes. "Really!? Thank you Darkfeather!" Starlingpaw said bowing her head. Then my stomach growled, causing me to blush under my fur. "Why do't we head to camp so you can have something to eat?" Darkflower said then we nodded our heads in agreement. "All right now follow us." Poollight said as she and Leafpaw went to put the herbs Leafpaw got out back in the leaf wraps and pick them up. We all then started heading to the FlowerClan camp with Poollight and Darkfeather in the lead, Starlingpaw and Reedpaw at the rear, and Leafpaw beside Katsuki.

'Well Mamma, we finally found FlowerClan like you wanted. We're try our best to make you proud of us!' I thought as we fallowed the FlowerClan medicine cat and warrior. This is the start of our new beginning!

Well my Fighting Cubs, Deku and Bakugo have learned about the five Clans in my story and started helping three kits, I'm going to make Deku and Bakugo the older sibling figures of Swan, Lynx, and Topaz. The next chapter is Starlingpaw's and Reedpaw's warrior ceremony and later some new apprentices will be named. Oh, and before I forget I'm going to continue all the stories I did as Noibatgirlthehero on here but with a few differences! See you next time!

[image]

💥🐱Bakugo's POV🐱💥

We've been walking for half an hour until we reached a wall of bi-color butterfly bushes with a cat sized opening at the base. "Well this is the entrance to the camp. It's only wide enough for us to go in one at a time, but the kits can go together." Darkfeather said before going into the camp, next was Poollight, then Swan, Topaz, and Lynx, next was Deku. When it was my turn I was nervous. "Don't worry Katsuki, everything will be alright. Dapplestar has been our leader since our deputy, Redfoot, was a kit. I'm sure she'll give you and Izuku a chance" Leafpaw said as she, Starlingpaw, and Reedpaw came up to me.

"*Takes a deep breath*Okay lets go." I said, then I went into the camp. When I exited the tunnel I saw a beautiful clearing full of all kinds of flowers, flowering and berry bushes, and all around the clearing were cats.(Kind of like the picture above) Poollight went to a juniper berry bush (The Medicine Cat den), in front of a little angel burnet bush (The Nursery) were four she-cats (two of the looked like they were expecting, the bright yellow she-cat with golden stripes sooner then the ginger one) watching four kits, that were same age as Swan, Lynx, and Topaz, play with each other while three others, who looked around my age looked like they were practice hunting, Darkfeather went to a rose bush (the Warriors den) where other cats were around her or either older or younger then her, and two elderly cats were lying in the sun in front of a prune spring flowering bush (The Elders den). And as I sat down next to Deku, I saw at the far end of the clearing was a hedge, and in front of what looked like a den (The Leader's den) were too she-cats talking to each other, one was an old white she-cat and the other was a pretty white she-cat with icy blue eyes.

^Kind of like this^

When Leafpaw, Starlingpaw, and Reedpaw came into the camp the elderly she-cat saw us. She then said something to the other she-cat before standing up and walking towards us. "Well so these are the cats Starlingpaw and Reedpaw found on assessment. I'm glad they were able to help you. Starlingpaw, Reedpaw I'm sure Darkfeather already told you the good news, so why don't you two go get some rest before your warrior ceremony." The she-cat said in a voice similar to Recovery Girl's, but older. "Yes Dapplestar." Starlingpaw and Reedpaw said in unison before going towards a blackberry bush (The Apprentice den) where six other cats around their age were either lying in the sun or talking while Leafpaw went to help Poollight in what I assume was the Medicine cat den.

"I am Dapplestar, leader of FlowerClan. May ask what your names are?" Dapplestar said, bowing her head. "I'm Izuku." Deku shuttered while bowing his head, and I can tell he was sweating under his fur. "And I'm Katsuki" I said. I noticed that Dapplestar kept on staring at us. 'Why is she staring at us?' I thought. "Flowingpaw, can you come here please?" Dapplestar said towards the blackberry bush. A bright silver she-cat with darker petal-shaped markings who looked eight months old came up to us. "Yes, Dapplestar?" Flowingpaw said in an angelic voice, bowing he head. "I want you to go tell Poollight and Leafpaw that I want to see them in my den please." Dapplestar said. Flowingpaw then bowed her head again before heading towards Poollight and Leafpaw's den.

"Would you two follow me." Dapplestar said to me and Deku before heading toward the hedge, which I think is her den, with me and Deku following her. When we entered the den we saw that it was big enough for about five full grown cats to stand up and at the far end of the den was a nest with different kinds of flower stems woven into it. Me, Deku, and Dapplestar had just sat down when Poollight and Leafpaw came in. "You wanted us Dapplestar?" Poollight said as she and Leafpaw sat down. "Yes. You know StarClan's latest message 'For the Clans to survive, twelve heroes from a different World will come and each join a different Clans that they're most connected to.'?" Dapplestar said staring at me and Deku harder. "Yes, that is correct." Poollight said. "And didn't you say you saw that two of the twelve heroes were a dark green tabby tom with black accents and a spiky-furred sandy yellow she-cat with red accents, like our new friends here?"

When Dapplestar was finished, I couldn't believe it. 'Me, Deku, and the others didn't just come here because of a Quirk but we were also destined to come here.' I thought, looking at Dapplestar. "Um, who are StarClan?" Deku asked. "StarClan is where warriors who lived an honorable go after they die. They send messages to the Clan's medicine cat, leader, and cats they need to send on a quest. And when someone is made the new leader of the Clan StarClan gives them nine lives." Leafpaw said excitedly. "So I was wondering if you two would like to join FlowerClan?" Dapplestar said. "We already promised Swan, Lynx, and Topaz that we take care of them. Especially since it was their mother's final request." I said with determination.

"Very well. We'll make you two apprentices at the same time as Amberleap's kits tomorrow. For now, Leafpaw will show you around camp. And since you'll be apprenticed tomorrow, you'll be sleeping in the Apprentice den. Poollight, please tell Sunwish, Orangefoot, Amberleap, and Eva that three more kits will be staying in the Nursery but the cats who came with them will take care of them." With that the four of us left, leaving Dapplestar alone. "Can Swan, Lynx, and Topaz join us on the tour?" I asked. "Of course. Oh, by the way from this day on Swan, Lynx, and Topaz will be known as Swankit, Lynxkit, and Topazkit. It's a tradition for kits to have 'kit' until they become apprentices when 'paw' replaces the 'kit' part of their name." Leafpaw explained.

"I'll go get them!" Deku said before getting Swankit, Lynxkit, and Topazkit. 'I guess this is the start of a new adventure, and a new me. But that won't stop me! I'll become the best warrior the Clans have ever seen!' I thought as Deku went to get the kits we swoon to protect.

~🕰Time Skip to After the Tour, Deku And Bakugo Picked a Nest. Starlingpaw and Reedpaw's Warrior Ceremony🕰~ No One's POV

"Let all cats old enough to catch their own prey gather around the Tall Bush for a Clan meeting!" Dapplestar said loud and clear. When Bakugo and Deku came out of the Apprentice den they saw all the warriors and apprentices were gathered around the Tall Bush, the queens and kits, including Swankit, Lynxkit, and Topazkit, were sitting in front of the Nursery, Poollight and Leafpaw were sitting in front of the Medicine Cat den, and the Elders were sitting in front of their den. Not knowing if they should join the warriors and apprentices or not, the two of them stayed in front of the Apprentice den, they saw Dapplestar on a thick branch in the hedge.

"The biggest honor a Leader can do is to turn an apprentice, or two in this case, into warriors. Starlingpaw, come forth." Starlingpaw then went to the base of the Tall Bush to meet Dapplestar. "I, Dapplestar, leader of FlowerClan, call upon my warrior ancestors to look down on this apprentice. She has trained hard to understand the ways of your noble code, and I commend her to you as a warrior in her turn." She then looked at Starlingpaw, who raised her head. "Starlingpaw," Dapplestar continued. "do you promise to uphold the warrior code and to protect and defend this Clan even at the cost of your life?"

"I do." Starlingpaw replied. "Then by the power of StarClan, I give you your warrior name. Starlingpaw, from this moment on you will be known as Starlingcloud. StarClan honors your kindness and spirit, and we welcome you as a full warrior of FlowerClan." When she was done, Dapplestar then rested her muzzle on Starlingcloud's head, who then licked the leader's shoulder. "Starlingcloud! Starlingcloud! Starlingcloud!" The whole Clan chanted, Leafpaw, Reedpaw, and a black she-cat with jade-green eyes chanted the loudest. 'Leafpaw and that other she-cat must be Reedpaw and Starlingcloud's littermates.' Bakugo and Deku thought in unison.

After Starlingcloud stepped back it was Reedpaw's turn to step forward. "I, Dapplestar, leader of FlowerClan, call upon my warrior ancestors to look down on this apprentice. He has trained hard to understand the ways of your noble code, and I commend him to you as a warrior in his turn." She then looked over at Reedpaw as he raised his head. "Reedpaw, do you promise to uphold the warrior code and to protect and defend this Clan even at the cost of your life?" Dapplestar said. "I do." Reedpaw replied, with determination. "Then by the power of StarClan, I give you your warrior name. Reedpaw, from this moment on you will be known as Reedsong.

StarClan honors your speed and dedication, and we welcome you as a full warrior of FlowerClan." She then put her muzzle on Reedsong's head, who licked Dapplestar's shoulder.

"Reedsong! Reedsong! Reedsong!" The Clan chanted Reedsong's new name, including Bakugo and Deku. Reedsong then went to sit beside his sister. "As of tradition, Starlingcloud and Reedsong will sit in silent vigil all night and guard the camp while the rest of us sleep. You are all dismissed." When Dapplestar was finished a few cats went to the prey pile to get something to eat before going to sleep for the night(A Patrol Was Sent to Get The Prey Starlingcloud And Reedsong Caught). Since they have no choice, Deku went to the prey pile to get a crow big enough for him and Bakugo to share. "No point in going to sleep on an empty stomach." Deku said as he put the crow down. He and Bakugo then lied down next to each other and started eating, and they were surprised at how delicious it tasted.

As they were eating a dusty brown she-cat came up to them. "Hey, are you going to finish that?" She asked. "No, I'm full." Bakugo said, yawning. "Yeah, me too. In fact the two of us were about to yawn go to sleep." Deku said as he and Bakugo stood up. "Okay. Oh, I'm Dustpaw by the way. Good night." Dustpaw said. The two childhood friends then went into the den and each went to the nests they picked. "Good night Kacchan." Deku said, closing his eyes. "Yawn Good night Deku." Bakugo said. Then the two of them drifted off to sleep.

~🌅In The Morning🌅~ 🤍🐱Deku's POV🐱🤍

I woke up feeling completely refreshed. When I went outside I saw multiple cats were out and about. After I stretched I went over to the prey pile to get something to eat. I saw that there were only two mice and a squirrel. "Not much in the prey pile this morning, is there? But there's no need to worry, Redfoot sent out a hunting patrol while you and your friend were still sleeping." I turned to see a sleek black-and-white dappled she-cat with neon yellow eyes coming up to me.

'She talks in a Gothic tone just like Tokoyami. Speaking of Tokoyami, I wonder which Clan he joined and who's with him?' I thought as the she-cat came to my side. "Your Izuku, one of the loners who came into camp with Starlingcloud, Reedsong, Leafpaw, Poollight, and Darkfeather yesterday, right?" The she-cat asked. "Yes, I am. But what's your name?" I asked the she-cat as Kacchan came up to us, most likely heard what we said. "I'm Soulpaw. You two can have the mice, I'm fine having the squirrel." Soulpaw said before picking up said squirrel.

"You know for a bright and cheery Clan, Soulpaw is a total emo almost like Tokoyami." Kacchan said as if she read my mind. We then each got a mouse before heading back to the Apprentice den. "Hey Deku, what do you think is going on back home?" Kacchan asked as a group of cats, which I assume was the hunting patrol Soulpaw was talking about, came into camp, and they each had about five pieces of prey. "The Pro Heroes are most likely looking for a way to bring us home and our families are of course worried sick about us." I said as more cats came out of their dens.

As we finished eating, I saw Dapplestar go up to the same thick branch she was yesterday when she called that Clan meeting. "Let all cats old enough to catch their own prey gather around the Tall Bush for a Clan meeting!" This time when the warriors and apprentices gathered at the base of the Tall Bush, me and Kacchan joined them. "Today is a joyous day we will welcome five new apprentices. And I know the Clan only has three kits that are now six moons old, but yesterday, as you all know, two loners came into Camp, and Poollight confirmed that their two of the twelve heroes that StarClan said are destined to save us and the other Clans."

When Dappplestar was finished, almost everyone in the Camp was staring at us. "So they will be training to be warriors of FlowerClan as well." She then looks over at an orange she-cat who nudges her kits towards Dapplestar. A red she-kit, or she-cat now, was the first to walk over to the base of the Tall Bush. "Foxkit, you have reached the age of six moons, and it is time for you to be apprenticed. From this day on, until you receive your warrior name, you will be known as Foxpaw. Your mentor will be Billy. I hope Billy will pass down all he knows on to you."

"Billy, you are ready to take on an apprentice. You have received excellent training from Sunwish, and you have shown yourself to be loyal and brave. As the mentor of Foxpaw I expect you to pass on all you know to Foxpaw." When Dapplestar was finished Foxpaw went over to a spiky-furred sandy-yellow tom and touched noses with him. Dapplestar then made Treepaw and Lakepaw apprentices, Treepaw's mentor was a golden she-cat with thick fur on her paws named Lionsight and Lakepaw's mentor was a calico tom with a feminine body named Sakurapetal. It was now Kacchan's turn. 'Mine and Kacchan's apprentice ceremony will most likely be different from Foxpaw's, Treepaw's, and Lakepaw's.' I thought as Kacchan went to the base of the Tall Bush.

"Katsuki," Dapplestar said. "from this moment on you will be known as Flashpaw, in recognition of the way you helped three kits in a flash. Ghostbloom, you will be the mentor to Flashpaw. I'm sure that you will teach her everything she needs to know." When Dapplestar was finished, a silky purple-and-black she-cat with navy blue eyes motioned Kacchan towards her. 'That must be Ghostbloom!' I thought. And it seemed that Kacchan came to the same conclusion, because she went over to the she-cat and touched noses with her. "Flashpaw! Flashpaw! Flashpaw!" The Clan chanted Kacchan's new, and for some reason I couldn't help but chant the loudest.

It was my turn and I was nervous. 'I haven't been this nervous since my first day at U.A.' I thought as I went to the base of the Tall Bush. "Izuku," Dapplestar said, snapping me out of the trance I didn't know I was in. "from this moment on you will be known as Bravepaw, in recognition of the way you bravely put others before you. I will be your mentor, and I promise I will do my best to teach you everything you need to know." When she was finished everyone in the Clan was too surprised to chant my new name. Then Dapplestar spoke once again. "I know it won't be too long before I join StarClan. That is why I want to train one more apprentice before my time comes." She then came down to the base of the Tall Bush and up to me.

When she was in front of me we touched noses. "Bravepaw! Bravepaw! Bravepaw!" The Clan chanted my new, for they respected their leader's decision. While they were chanting, I noticed that, just like me, Kacchan chanted my name the loudest.

'What is up with us? First I couldn't help but chat Kacchan's new name the loudest and now the same thing is happening to her. This just doesn't make sense.' I thought as I looked over at Kacchan. Dapplestar seemed to notice I was staring at her because she whispered in my ear only loud enough for me to hear. "Why don't we talk about you and Flashpaw when I take you out for training?"

"Okay." I said back to Dapplestar, just as quiet. Then with a wave of her Dapplestar dismissed the Clan, the only ones that stayed were Kacchan, Foxpaw, Treepaw, Lakepaw, and their mentors. "I can't believe we're finally apprentices!" Lakepaw said with excitement. "Why don't we start your apprenticeship with a tour of the territory?" Lionsight said. "I think that's a great idea Lionsight! Let's go now!" Sakurapetal said with a smile that can rival All Might's, it even caused Lionsight to blush. And with that the ten of us left Camp to tour the territory.

Hey there my Fighting Cubs, I have an announcement!!!! I'm going to let you send me OC ideas for Sunwish's kits!!! Oh, and make sure to watch Monkart!!!!! One of my future stories is a Monkart/WoF crossover. By the way four cats (two of Thunder and one of Shadow) will appear in the next chapter, two will join FlowerClan while the other two will join ValleyClan.

What They Look Like, They're Apprentice Names, And Their Mentors/Not A Chapter

Hey there my Fighting Cubs. Since you all already know what Deku and Bakugo look like as cats, they're apprentice names, who they're mentors are, and what Clan, I'm going to show you what the other stranded U.A students look like as cats, what they're apprentice names are, who are they're mentors, and which Clan they joined.

Yes, I know Denki's mentor is a Clan leader. But trust me, later on in the story you will all see that their mentors will help them learn how to have fun, know when it's time to be serious, and in Shinso and Bakugo's case learn how to be a she-cat in a Warrior Clan.

And just so you all know, Dapplestar told Redfoot who should be Deku's mentor after she joins StarClan. And Kestrelstar will teach Denki not to be a pervert by the way. And if any of you have any ideas on what their Warrior names should be. I also want a she-cat OC who will one day be Sero's mate. She has to either start out as rouge or loner by the way.

Chapter 4

💥🐱 Bakugo/Flashpaw's POV 🐱💥

We just came to a wooden fence after a half an hour of walking. "Alright you five, we want you to give the fence a good sniff and tell us what you smell." Ghostbloom said as we stopped in front of the fence. We did as we were told and smelled the fence. I instantly smelled the sweet flowery scent of FlowerClan and a few other scents I knew since I was human, including pine.

"I smell flowers, pine, and a few scents I can't name." Deku said(yes Bakugo and Deku still call each other by their nicknames). "Very good Bravepaw." Dapplestar said, causing Deku to blush under his fur at the praise he got from his mentor. "The flowery scent is the scent all FlowerClan cats have, you, Flashpaw, Swankit, Lynxkit, and Topazkit will have it in a few more days or so. The pine scent is the scent of DuskClan, the Clan that makes their home on a farm and half of the pine forest." Dapplestar explained.

I looked towards the fence, wondering which of the others are in DuskClan. "So the other scents are the scent of farm animals?" Foxpaw said, looking beyond the fence hoping to see any farm animals. "Correct Foxpaw! In fact on the farm is a dog who can understand us and helps keep DuskClan a secret from her Twolegs." Billy said, as we caught sight of six cats.

The oldest of the group was a rust-colored red she-cat, the second oldest was small tortoiseshell she-cat, the third was a snow white she-cat with black accents who looked to be the same age as Billy, the forth was a yellow tom with golden accents and black lightning bolt streak over his left eye, the fifth was a black tom with front knee shaped like tape-dispensers, the last one was a indigo tabby she-cat. The two tom and youngest she-cat looked to be the same age as me and Deku, meaning their apprentices.

One look at them and it was easy to tell who the apprentices are. "Kaminari, Sero, Shinso!" Deku called them and our three classmates started running towards us. 'So Kaminari, Sero, and Shinso are in DuskClan. That just leave Todoroki, Uraraka, Iida, Tokoyami, Tsu, Kirishima, and Mina. I wonder which Clan they're in?' I thought.

"Midoriya, Bakugo! Oh, thank God you're alright!" Kaminari said as he Sero and Shinso stopped at the fence, their mentors right behind them. "Bravepaw, do you and Flashpaw know these three DuskClan apprentices?" Dapplestar asked. "Yes, we do Dapplestar. We were learning how to control our Quirks together when we were hit by a Quirk that sent us here." I explained for Deku (The day before Swankit, Lynxkit, and Topazkit told the whole Clan that Bakugo and Deku came from a place where almost everyone has a Quirk).

"Cool, you guys are in FlowerClan! Is it just you two or are any of the others with you?" Shinso asked. "It's just me and Deku. We don't know where the others are." I said, before Deku spoke. "By the way, me and Kacchan go by Bravepaw and Flashpaw now!" "Deku, they already know that." I said, rolling my eyes as Deku blushed in embarrassment.

"That's so cool!" Kaminari said. "I go by Lightningpaw now, Sero goes by Spiderpaw, and Shinso goes by Lavenderpaw!" When Kami-Lightningpaw was finished I noticed Shin-Lavenderpaw was blushing so much it was visible through her fur. 'She must be embarrassed by her new name.' I thought as the red she-cat spotted Dapplestar. "Dapplestar, are you training one of these apprentices!?" The red she-cat said in surprise.

"Yes, I'm training Bravepaw. I wanted to train at least one more apprentice before joining StarClan. You'll understand one day Kestrelstar." Dapplestar replied simply before Lightningpaw looked at Deku in amazement. "Your being trained by your Clan leader Bravepaw!?! Me too!!!" Lightningpaw said while jumping up and down a bit. I then notice that Billy, Lionsight, and Sakurapetal talking to the two DuskClan she-cats, Dapplestar continued to talk with Kestrelstar, and Foxpaw, Treepaw, and Lakepaw looked like they wanted to join us so I said it was all right with a wave of my tail.

The three littermates looked at Lightningpaw, Lavenderpaw, and Se-Spiderpaw with courious eyes. "You have funny looking front knees." Foxpaw said to Spiderpaw before realizing what she said. "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to offend you!" Foxpaw said, bowing her head. Spiderpaw giggled at this. "It's alright. Everyone who meets me for the first time." Spiderpaw said. "Why do your front knees look like that?" Lakepaw asked.

"Well, it's because of my Quirk. I shoot a sticky sheet, which I call tape, from my front knees at will." Spiderpaw explained to the three littermates who looked at him with wide eyes. "What are your Quirks?" Treepaw asked, looking at Lightningpaw and Lavenderpaw. "Well I can create lightning from my body and I use my claw to control where they go." Lightningpaw said as he raised his paw at, which sparks of electricity danced off. The three littermates stared in awe before looking at Lavenderpaw, waiting for her to explain her Quirk. "Well, my Quirk allows me to control someone if they answer a question I ask." Lavenderpaw replied.

"Alright you five, you can continue your gossip with Lightningpaw, Lavenderpaw, and Spiderpaw at the Gathering. We have to continue our tour of the territory." Ghostbloom said as our mentors came up to us. " The same goes for us you three, come along." The tortoiseshell she-cat said, as the eight of us separated. "Dapplestar, how tough of a mentor is Kestrelstar?" Deku asked as we got back in the shade of the flowered forest. "She's the toughest leader in all five Clans, she actually trained her deputy Swiftbrook." Dapplestar said.

"Then I feel bad for Lightningpaw, considering how lazy he is." I said, causing all of us to laugh. I then looked over at Deku when we calmed down and blushed, seeing he was as well toned as a cat like he was as a human. While Deku didn't notice, Ghostbloom did. She then leaned over to whisper in my ear. "We'll talk about you and Bravepaw when it's just the two of us." She said. I was about to reply when we heard something.

"What was that?" Lionsight asked. Dapplestar didn't say anything, instead she signaled for us to head towards the sound. We then ran towards the sound. When we got there we saw four cats, two of which were aguring. "Why can't we join FlowerClan?! They can protect us!" Yelled a stripped gray tabby she-cat. "Oh, can they?! Last I checked "flower" doesn't mean strong! We'll be much safer in ValleyClan, now that's a name that means strong!" A golden tabby tom yelled back at the she-cat, his green eyes glaring at her. The white tom then got between them. "Snaptooth, Flywhisker, are you already forgetting what Dawnpelt and Beenose told us already?! The Kin is still out there and only us and cats like Bluebell can make sure what happened to SkyClan, ShadowClan and RiverClan doesn't happen! As well as make sure no dies like Dawnpelt, Beenose, and everyone else who tried and failed to leave The Kin!" The white tom said, looking sad at the mention of Beenose.

Flywhisker and Snaptooth looked at each other before Flywhisker comforted the white tom. 'This 'Beenose' must have been the white tom's littermate. I wonder what happened to her?' I thought before Ghostbloom spoke up. "Did they say Sky*Clan*, Shadow*Clan* and River*Clan*? And do those two cats have Clan names?" She said in shock. "I heard that there were other Clans like ours somewhere in the World. But I don't know of this 'Kin' they speak of" Dapplestar said, looking at the four cats as the last one spoke up.

"Then why don't we go our different ways? Me and Snaptooth will join ValleyClan while you two join FlowerClan." The blue-gray she-cat with white cloud shapes on her pelt, who must be Bluebell, said. "It will help us warn them." Flywhisker said. "Well, I guess this is good bye. May StarClan light your path Flywhisker and Rippletail." Snaptooth said before he and Bluebell left. "May StarClan light your path Snaptooth and Bluebell." Flywhisker and Rippletail said back.

Dapplestar looked in the direction Snaptooth and Bluebell went in before speaking. "Billy, I want you, Foxpaw, Sakurapetal, and Lakepaw to follow Snaptooth and Bluebell to make sure they arrive in ValleyClan's territory safely while the rest of us greet Flywhisker and Rippletail." The four cats nodded yes before doing as they were told, trusting their Clan leader's judgement. "Shouldn't we chase them away from the Clan territories Dapplestar." Treepaw asked as his littermates and their mentor went after the two other loners. "I know what I'm doing Treepaw, don't worry." Dapplestar said as she got up and went to greet the loners.

Flywhisker and Rippletail turned around, almost attacking us, before Dapplestar spoke. "Greetings. I am Dapplestar, leader of FlowerClan. This is Ghostbloom and Lionsight. With us are our apprentices, Bravepaw, Flashpaw, and Treepaw." Dapplestar said, Flywhisker and Rippletail no longer in an attack postion. "I'm guessing you heard all that, didn't you?" Flywhisker said, embarrassed.

"Yes we did." Dapplestar replyed. "The whole forest heard you." Treepaw said, rolling his eyes. Lionsight then glared at Treepaw to tell him to be quiet. "We heard you say something about a 'Kin'. Can you tell us who they are when we're back at Camp?" Dapplestar said, causing me, Deku, and Treepaw to look at her in surprise. "We'll need to rest first. We've come a long way to find you so we can warn." Rippletail said.

"Lionsight, you and Treepaw go take Flywhisker and Rippletail back to camp while me, Ghostbloom, Bravepaw, and Flashpaw continue the tour. If that's alright with you two?" Dapplestar said. The two loners looked at each other before Flywhiker spoke up. "It's alright. I learned that an apprentice must value their time with their mentor." Flywhisker looked like she was disappointed with herself as she spoke. With that Lionsight and Treepaw led the loners to camp while me and Deku continued the tour of the territory with our mentors.

If you don't know about The 'Kin', read Warriors: A Vision of Shadows books one through three, or look it up. Oh, and I'm going to change it up in the next chapter That's all I'll say for now my Fighting Cubs!
